Firearms Law

There are many Federal and State laws regulating the lawful ownership, purchase, sale, transfer, transportation and use of firearms.

Ernest J. Myers, an AV® listed founding partner, heads the firm's firearms practice. We represent individuals, gun shops, firearms ranges and other businesses with respect to the civil and administrative aspects of Florida firearms law.

Talk to us if you are faced with a firearms situation involving:

- Carrying concealed weapons
- Concealed weapons license
- Firearm serial numbers
- Impairment or intoxication
- Juvenile offenders
- Mandatory waiting periods
- Off-duty law enforcement
- Paramilitary training
- Pharmacy weapons crimes
- Public firearms discharge
- Safe storage of firearms
- Sale and delivery of firearms
- Taking possession of arms
- Use of self-defense weapon
- Weapons for minors

We can help you understand your options in firearms law.

We are familiar with compliance requirements of the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives, and work with Federal Firearms Licensees to prepare and file the necessary documentation.

In the case of a legal disability which prevents an individual from possessing firearms or ammunition, we can assist clients with the process of restoring Florida Firearms Rights or applying for a Presidential Pardon, whichever is appropriate. Additionally, we can advise individuals on the ownership, possession, transfer, bequest, and transportation of firearms, including those regulated by the National Firearms Act.

For gun shops and firearms ranges, Mr. Myers is available to draft liability waivers and firearms purchase or rental contracts. Also, we can assist such businesses with leases, vendor contracts, employee agreements, and insurance policies.

In the event of accident or injury on the range, Mr. Myers is able to assist clients and their insurers with the potential civil liability which may arise.

Contact Mr. Myers at 407-447-2550 x304 or emyers@marcusmyerslaw.com to discuss your firearms case.
